2. Bureau Veritas Certification Policy

2.1 Certificates of approval and certification brands are properties of Bureau Veritas Certification, and therefore, customers can use them only as long as the certificate is valid.

2.2 Definitions:

2.2.1 The General Certification Brand, which is printed on the certificates, is for the exclusive use of Bureau Veritas Certification.

2.2.2 Specific Certification Brands are those that contain the standard in which the organization is certified, and can be used by certified customers for marketing purposes.

2.3 Customers certified by Bureau Veritas Certification are allowed to disclose the Specific Certification Brand applicable to the certified regulatory standard, but this disclosure is not an obligation.

2.4 The Specific Certification brand artwork is available in electronic file in the following formats: jpeg (image) and cdr (Corel Draw). Files can be downloaded from the website www.bureauveritascertification.com.br or by a formal request to the e-mail: renata.salerno@bureauveritas.com

- 2.5 The Certification Brand of Bureau Veritas Certification must be reproduced exactly as in the electronic file. No layout modifications are allowed, except modifications in its size (*) or color (see chapters 5 and 6 of this manual), provided that all details are kept legible, and also the proportionality between the dimensions of the original drawing.

(*) The Certification Brands of the Certification Body must be smaller than the certified organization Logo, as provided for in item 6 of this manual.

- 2.6 Organizations certified by Bureau Veritas Certification can promote their certification through the use of the Specific Certification Brand, composed of the Bureau Veritas Certification logo containing the standard in which the company is certified. The criteria for using the Specific Certification Brands are defined in item 4 of this manual.

2.6.1 Both the local accreditation body (Cgcre), and international accreditation bodies have several of restrictions regarding the use of their accreditation brands by certified companies. Therefore, Bureau Veritas Certification recommends that its clients use the Specific Certification Brands according to the guidelines of this Manual, since the Certification Brand of Bureau Veritas Certification is recognized worldwide and has more than 35 national and international accreditations. Companies that want to use the Accreditation Brands must refer to the relevant rules in the “Accreditation Brand User Manual”, available at www.bureauveritascertification.com.br.

- 2.6.2 The reproduction of Certificates issued by Bureau Veritas Certification is allowed for disclosure purposes in advertising material (brochures, banners, advertisements, metal certificates and websites), provided that it is fully reproduced.

Color reproduction of certificates (color copy) is also allowed, as long as they are identified as copies (on the front or back).

- 2.6.3 Where the promotional material also involves other certified scopes/processes that are not covered by the certification scope, the use of the Certification/Compliance Brand of Bureau Veritas Certification must be clear that it applies only to the scope of certified activities.

2.7 Specific Certification Brands of Bureau Veritas Certification, within the scope of the management system certification, shall not be used on products or in any other manner that may induce the buyer or potential purchaser to believe that the product has been approved by Bureau Veritas Certification, which includes compliance certificates, calibration certificates, reports or technical reports, test reports, training certificates, certificates and related. Their use must be compliant with the descriptions in the sub-items below:

2.7.1 Organizations are not allowed to use the Specific Certification Brand of Bureau Veritas Certification on the product itself or on its packaging (see 4.1 and 4.2). On packaging, only a statement is allowed referring to the certification of the relevant management system, but with no use of the Brand, as follows: “<reference system> Management System certified according to the reference Standard by Bureau Veritas Certification”, as shown in the examples below:

E.g. 1: “Quality Management System certified according to ISO 9001:2015 Standard by Bureau Veritas Certification”.

E.g. 2: “Environmental Management System certified according to ISO 14001:2015 Standard by Bureau Veritas Certification”.

E.g. 3: “Occupational Safety and Health Management System certified according to OSHAS 18001:2007 Standard by Bureau Veritas Certification”.

E.g. 4: “Integrated Management System certified according to ISO 9001:2015, ISO 14001:2015 and OHSAS 18001:2007 by Bureau Veritas Certification”.

This statement, under no circumstances, may be inferred as if the product, process or service was certified, but rather the management system.

2.7.2 The above statement shall be amended according to the certification obtained by the Organization.

2.7.3 No disclosure of the Accreditation is allowed (e.g.: Cgcre), for the situations described above.

- 2.8 The original Certificates and the final artwork of the Certification Brands are documents of the management system and customers must demonstrate the control of their distribution.
- 2.9 Organizations certified by Bureau Veritas Certification may only use the Certification Brands regarding their certification and the units of the organization that have been certified.
- 2.10 The certification disclosure in vehicles, allowed to the certified organization, should be made with the statement “<reference system> Management System certified according to the reference Standard by Bureau Veritas Certification”, as shown in sub-item 2.7.1.

Note: If the statement is required in other languages, it must be requested to Bureau Veritas Certification.

- 2.11 The disclosure of Certification Brands of General and Specific types related to standards in which the organization is not certified, or which certificates are expired, suspended or cancelled is prohibited.
- 2.12 The non-compliance with the clauses described in this procedure may imply violations of laws in force, such as the Code of Consumer Defense and Protection.
